

Longhorns THUNDER into Dolly Parton's

Dixie STAMPEDE!

Head 'em up! Move 'em out! Dolly Parton's Dixie Stampede Dinner Attraction unveils its biggest new show addition in a decade, highlighted by a thunderous stampede of longhorn steers.

A New Signature Show Segment Highlights
Branson's Most Fun Place to Eat!

"I can't imagine a better way to kick off my Dixie Stampede show than with a herd of amazing longhorns," Parton said. "It's like nothing I've ever seen before. I know the audience is going to enjoy this one-of-a-kind experience as much as I do."

In a feat rarely attempted in an indoor arena, Dixie Stampede treats audiences to a live and up-close experience with a herd of authentic longhorns! Each steer weighs up to 1800 pounds and has a horn span of six to eight feet from tip to tip. Relying on the mystery and magic of popular folklore, Dixie Stampede presents a dramatic depiction of settlers destined for the wild frontier. Highlights include a poignant appearance by a Native American medicine man who summons the "Spirit of the Bird," setting the stage for a spectacular aerialist soaring high above the arena, complete with new music and lighting created especially for the show-stopping performance.

Stampede Stats

Dolly Parton's Dixie Stampede is a unique dinner and show experience set in an 85,000-square-foot facility featuring 32 magnificent horses, dozens of cast members, ostrich races, illusions, music and more, all showcased in a friendly rivalry between the North and the South.

With seating to accommodate over 1,000 guests, the show is highlighted by a four-course feast. Pre-show entertainment features the comedy and juggling of Guinness record sport juggler, Albert Lucas, in the facility's Carriage Room.
